C. E. Merry
To ServiceBusiness Manager
Leaves University
After 14 Years

CHARLES E. MERRY, Business Manager for the past three years and Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds for 11 years before that, will leave the University for parts unknown tomorrow. He will be replaced by Allen Connelly, now at the Kansas City University.

Merry will enter the armed services of the United States either in the Air Corps or the Engineering Division. Unlike other members of the staff who have been called into active duty with the armed forces, Merry is not going on leave of absence, but is severing all connections with the University.

Connelly at Arizona

Connelly who served as business manager under Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin during the time he was president of the University of Arizona, has since that time been connected with the Teachers' College of Columbia University as well as the institution where he is now located.

The definite time of his arrival has not been announced, but it is supposed that he will begin his duties around May 1. Connelly was Merry's superior at the University of Arizona where the latter held the position of Assistant Business Manager.

During Merry's tenure of office as Business Manager, many of the most important buildings which comprise the University have been erected. These include the Hall of Government, the Library and the almost complete Auditorium.

500 Sign Up
For Consumer
Week Drive

FIVE HUNDRED consumer pledges were signed during the Home Economics Club's recent Consumer Week campaign. This tacit assurance that University students are somewhat more aware of wartime consumer problems has encouraged the club to plan a permanent program for next year.

Instead of the temporary display of conservation posters in the Library and Student Club, which featured Consumer Week this year, a continuous, up-to-date exhibit of consumer news will be set up next fall, said Ruth Jean Yager, chairman of the program.

Week Draws Praise

Miss Yager hinted that the co-operation of the various departments of the University in the week's effort would be extended to a permanent place next semester. Courses in economics and sociology will probably include a treatment of problems in consumer education. The Home Economics Department is already working out separate courses of study in this field.

The University's Consumer Week drew considerable praise from Consumer Division heads of the War Production Board. Margery Forey and Marcia Crocker represented the University at a meeting of the Board, with local college students.

Band Wants Men
To Blow Trumpets

WITH THE END of school approaching fast, the University Band is hopefully looking forward to an influx of new members.

In asking for recruits Harry Allen, band director, stated that prospects need not feel backward about the quality of their talents since adequate rehearsals will be scheduled to bring them up to par. Especially welcome will be trumpeters to help out Jim Kincaid and Bud Fulton.

Cue and Curtain Offers 'Land Is Bright,'
A Roaring Saga of Get-Rich-Quick DaysPlay Slated For Friday, Saturday
At Local Church

RETURNING to the scene of their former triumphs, Cue and Curtain players again commandeer the stage of the Western Presbyterian Church, 18th and H Streets, Friday and Saturday nights, to present the recent Broadway success, "The Land Is Bright," panoramic saga of the quick-rich Twentieth Century Americans.

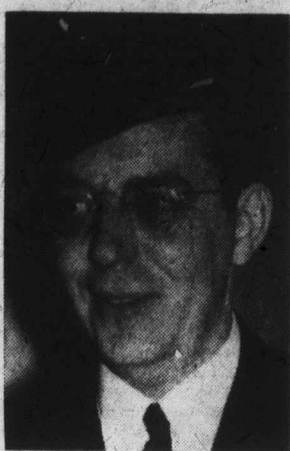

Tickets, priced at 65 cents, will be on sale this week in the Student Club, for this latest success of Edna Ferber and George Kaufman, co-authors of such plays as "Stage Door," "Dinner at Eight" and "Royal Family."

Elaine Berry Stars

Starring is Elaine Berry, president of the thespians, who plays the part of "Tana" (short for Montana), daughter of the wealthy robber-baron, Lacey Kincaid, played by Howard Vorder Brugge.

Several members of Cue and Curtain who have had important parts in past University Dramatic productions again have prominent positions in the cast which includes some thirty characters.

Heading the list of veterans is Warner Schriener as Grant Kincaid and Verna Cusack as the spoiled daughter of the wealthy Kincaid clan. Others are Sarah Jane Kitchen as Deborah Hawks; Susan

Floyd Sparks

McNeese as Lettie Hollister; Norman Dancy, Wayne Kincaid, and Bill Appleby, the Count.

The remainder of the cast reveals a conspicuous number of newcomers in the University's realm of dramatic art. Representing the neophytes are Elizabeth Baird, playing the part of Ellen Kincaid, mother of the Kincaid clan; Helen Vrahotes as Flora, and Jack Ragsdale as Theodore Kincaid.

Betty Owen and Bruce Bryan portray the second act juvenile dramatic team. There is one background in this play—a huge Fifth Avenue mansion belonging to Lacey Kincaid, the typical robber-baron.

Elaine Berry,
Thespian Head,
Stars in Show

The play opens upon the vulgar splendor of this monstrous mansion achieved by Lacey Kincaid through his theft of two hundred million dollars from Western landowners.

Death Enters Scene
As he settles down in his unaccustomed luxury—all elements of which are especially designed to make the eyes of his rivals bulge—he perpetuates his customary ruthless dominance by marrying off his young daughter, "Tana," to an impoverished European count.

The second act takes place in the same setting with, however, an absence of Lacey who met his death at the hands of a former partner he'd cheated. It is an act depicting the melodramatic hysteria of the "Twenties."

In the last act, the Kincaid family is brought up to the present age, and is faced with the numerous problems of present-day life. Vitality and calm assurance is the keynote on which the play ends—a complete contrast to the mood of the opening acts.

Curtain time is 8:40.

Victory Book Drive Closes
With 7,129 Volumes Received

THE UNIVERSITY'S drive to furnish books for men in the nation's armed services closed last week, with a total of 7,129 books received from students and professors here. Delta Zeta was the organization that furnished the most books, having collected 1,046 volumes.

The campaign here has been under the sponsorship of the Women's Student Government Association, led by Mina Brown. The WSGA has put up a cup which will be given to the organization furnishing the most books. The cup will be presented to Delta Zeta at the Pan-Hellenic Dance at the Shoreham on Thursday, April 30th.

The books will be packed and shipped this week to Army and Navy bases to be used to provide libraries for the service men. The push officially closed on April 1, but since books still continued to pour into the library, Librarian John R. Mason kept the desks there open to receive any contributions. It is still possible to turn in books to the library for the campaign, even at this late date.

Effort Lags at First

Librarian Mason called the student response to the campaign "quite good." He pointed out that at first, there was almost complete apathy to the drive on the part of the students, but after a Hatchet editorial, contributions began to increase.

The final figures on the drive follow: Delta Zeta: 1,046 books; Zeta Tau Alpha: 978; Sigma Kappa: 559; Kappa Kappa Gamma: 459; Pi Beta Phi: 171; Alpha Delta Pi: 133; Tau Kappa Epsilon: 116; Chi Omega: 62; Phi Mu: 5; ODK: 5; WAA: 12; Strong Hall: 88; Professor Winfield Bennett's Public Speaking classes: 32; and the Hatchet: 100. The balance of the books came from students and professors.

Dance Held for Drive

Just before the close of the campaign, a V-for-Victory Dance was held in the Student Club Friday night to collect more books for the registrars' office. De Angelis, Student Club manager donated the Club, the juke box, and the services of the men behind the counter so that the dance might be a possibility. The Student Council, headed by Anne Blackstone and Paul McClennon, sponsored the dance, admission to which was one or two books for the drive.

THE CHARLES CLINTON Swisher Scholarship, which will be entered in the 1942-43 catalogue, will be available for award for this next academic year. Dr. Warren Reed West, Dean of the School of Government, has announced.

This scholarship is in the amount of $240 and the Committee on Scholarships will ask for recommendations from the History Department. Following is an extract from the will of the late Prof. Charles Clinton Swisher which will form the basis for recommendations for this scholarship:

Listed in Catalogue

"... the income of which is to be used for the purpose of establishing a scholarship in Medieval History, to be known as the Charles Clinton Swisher Scholarship, to be awarded to the student who, up to and including his second year at the said University, shall attain the highest grade in the subject of Medieval History and who intends to specialize in that subject for the remainder of his course at said University, and who shall submit an essay on some assigned subject of Medieval History, satisfactory to the Faculty of said University."

The regular scholarships awarded annually in May are listed in the University catalogue and application blanks may be secured from the registrars' office. Further information may be secured from Dean West, School of Government.

Alumni to Honor Three Profs
At Annual Luncheon Saturday

THREE TEACHERS who have contributed 25 years of service to the University will be honored at the annual spring luncheon of the General Alumni Association Saturday at 1:15 p.m. at the Lee Sheraton Hotel.

The three faculty members to whom tribute will be paid are Dr. Thomas Benjamin Brown, professor of physics; Dr. Charles Sager Collier, professor of law, and Dr. Elmer Louis Kayser, dean of university students and professor of European history.

McNutt to Speak

Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security administrator, will address the luncheon meeting. Mr. McNutt is a former dean of the University of Indiana Law School.

Dean Henry Gratton Doyle, who completed 25 years here last year, will discuss the contributions of Dr. Brown, Dr. Collier and Dean Kayser have made to the University and to the students. Dean Doyle is head of Columbian College and professor of Romance Languages.

Dr. Brown, a graduate of Cornell University, taught at Cornell from 1912 to 1917. Executive officer of the Department of Physics at the University, he conducts classes in electronics, advanced physical measurements, a classical physical theory, high frequency electrical phenomena and general physics.

Dr. Collier was graduated from Harvard (summa cum laude) in 1911, attended the Ecole des Sciences Politiques in Paris in 1912-13 and received his LL.B. degree in 1915 and S.J.D. degree in 1932, also from Harvard.

Kayser from Western

He was engaged in the practice of law for one year, tutored at his alma mater another year and came to George Washington in 1917 as an assistant professor. He has been a full professor of law since 1920 and was acting dean for one year, 1930-31. Dr. Collier is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Phi and Order of the Coif.

Dean Kayser is a native of this city and a graduate of Western High School. He came to the University in 1914 and was graduated in 1917. He was nominated to serve as instructor in ancient history at the age of 20.

High School
Debate Squads
Meet Here

HIGH school debaters will compete for one-year full-tuition scholarships Saturday in the University's ninth annual scholastic Debate Tournament.

The question will be "Resolved, that every able-bodied male citizen of the United States be required to have one year of full-time military training before attaining the present draft age."

The first round of debates will open at 9:15 a.m. in the Hall of Government. The second round is scheduled to begin at 11:15. Eliminations will continue in the afternoon until one winning debate team is selected.

Each member of the winning team will receive a one-year scholarship, and the high school represented will be given an engraved wall plaque. Judges will be selected from the faculty and members of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debating fraternity.

A high school team will be composed of three members. Each school will send either a negative and an affirmative team or one squad prepared to debate both sides of the question.

Under the modified Oregon system of debate, two speakers on a team will offer constructive arguments, while the third member presents a rebuttal and summary.

Western High School debaters last year won the tournament for the sixth time in nine years.

Prexy Burns Spurs
Senior Classmen
In Contest Effort

DISMAYED by the apparent lack of interest shown thus far in The Atlantic Monthly's class-gift essay contest, senior class president Dick Burns last week appealed once more to the members of his class to hurry and submit their entries to time at 1757 N Street, N. W., by April 28.

The essay submitted by a college senior in the United States on "The Value of The Atlantic Monthly to the College Student" judged best by the editors of the magazine will earn for the writer's school library one hundred dollars' worth of books, to be chosen from among those advertised in the pages of the magazine since January, 1941.

Moreover, the prize-winning senior will himself get a five-year subscription to The Atlantic. Another five-year subscription will go to the president of the class submitting the prize-winning essay. The only restriction on the essays is that they be typewritten, on one side of the sheet. Any length is acceptable.

Warning Notices
Go Out Now

WARNING NOTICES are going out to students this week, Junior College Dean William C. Johnston announced today. To conserve paper, notice of scholastic probation will be included. Students warned now for low grades this semester will find statements of probation status as of last semester together with quality point index.

Students are reminded that those who have an index of below 1.50 are subject to being suspended from the University at the end of this semester. This also applies to those students who are now on probation for the second time and who fail to improve their grades by the end of this semester.

THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE recently announced its Fourth Annual Student Research Day to be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Hall at the Medical School.

For the past four years it has been the custom at the School of Medicine to set aside one day out of the year on which research papers prepared by the students could be presented before the entire student body, faculty and alumni.

Once It Was Finding Jobs,
Now the Task Is Filling Them

By ANNE CATHERINE EMMERT

THINGS HAVE changed at the Employment Office. Now, instead of Mrs. Barrows' frantically seeking for open positions for troubled young people, she is kept busy finding qualified students to fill the many positions open.

To meet the increasing need for scientifically trained persons to fill National Defense positions in the Federal Government, the Civil Service Commission is recruiting more and more young women. The success of America's war program, according to the conclusions reached at a recent conference on "War Demands for Trained Personnel," depends on the breaking down of prejudice by employers against women, and the ability of colleges to train women for technical jobs needing to be done.

WFB Recommends Speed-Up

Channing R. Dooley, director of the War Production Board's training-within-industry branch, recommended that emergency speed-up and refresher courses in technical subjects be instituted for certain cultural subjects during the final year of the college curriculum. He also proposed that girls be encouraged to take geometry, trigonometry, physics and chemistry to

'Mural Debate
For Greeks
On Tomorrow

NINE FRATERNITY and six sorority teams will meet in D-200 tomorrow night at 9 to open the first round of the University's annual Intramural Debate Tournament.

The drawing for the first round of debates has given a bye to all the teams except Phi Sigma Kappa, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Delta, Delta Zeta, Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Kappa.

Tomorrow the Phi Sig team will uphold the affirmative in its debate with the Tekes; Kappa Delta will champion the issue before Delta Zeta, and Zeta Tau Alpha will take the affirmative against Sigma Kappa.

At the same time a drawing will be made for partners and sides for the second round of debates, scheduled for April 22.

The teams who received byes in the first drawing will automatically advance to the second round. These include Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Alpha Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The question to be debated is "Resolved, that the three-year college plan be continued at the University during and after the war." Each speaker will give a ten-minute constructive speech and a five-minute rebuttal.

Charles Baldwin and Leatrice Harpster, Student Directors of Intramural Debate, announced that eligibility of the pledges or actives on the teams should be verified in the Registrar's Office.

Many Other Jobs Open

At least 25,000 women trained in physics, electronics and radio will find radio jobs with the armed forces.

The Navy Department and other defense agencies in Washington have immediate need for fifteen or more young women physicists. Applicants who cannot meet the requirement of 24 semester hours in physics are still eligible for positions in various types of technical and scientific aid positions.

Further details concerning these specific openings, and information on other possible openings may be had by consulting Mrs. Barrows in Columbian House, second floor.

S.C. Slated
To Rule On
RevisionCandidates Need
Only Twelve Hours
And Two Semesters

By NASH CASTRO

STARTLING revolutionary developments in University politics took shape last week as the Student Council passed a constitutional amendment to abolish the old political system and proposed a merit system in its stead.

Before becoming effective, the amendment must be passed by the Student Life Committee. Action by the Committee is expected this week.

To Conserve Time, Effort

President Anne Blackstone stated that the amendment was proposed to "conserve time, effort, and money of the student body during the war emergency period." "Every probability exists," said Miss Blackstone, "of gaining a very efficient Council for the duration. Following that, the Student Council will decide whether to retain the system or revert to the one formerly in use."

With the proposed revision, the election dates have been tentatively moved from April 23 and 24 to May 7 and 8. Similarly, recognition date for candidates has been shifted from April 10 to April 23.

Under the old system, students desiring to run for office needed forty-five semester hours before they could qualify. The new amendment requires 12 hours.

If the amendment meets with the Student Life Committee's approval, it will mark the first major change in the University's system of Student Council elections. Council members have indicated that the merit system has proved successful in other schools throughout the country.

New and novel twists of student life, as seen through the eyes of the collegiate press.

THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET

Tuesday, April 14, 1942

Puzzling Departure

• TOMORROW, CHARLES E. MERRY leaves the University after fourteen years of service here. His departure will be keenly felt by all elements at the University. As Business Manager, Mr. Merry has cooperated with all campus groups and his presence has been appreciated most highly by the students who have continually looked to him for help in their activities.

Mr. Merry's job at the University has been a difficult one. In the last several years the University has expanded physically but the student body has always been so large that facilities for its use have been comparatively meager. Every square foot of space has been utilized. Mr. Merry has been confronted with constant demands for rooms and offices by student organizations but the most he has been able to do has been to compile a waiting list and to cheerfully regret George Washington University's limitations.

With what facilities he did have, though, Mr. Merry has turned in a remarkably efficient job.

A puzzling feature of Mr. Merry's departure has been the almost mysterious air surrounding the whole affair. Getting information has been like pulling teeth. Mr. Merry has most reluctantly offered information. President Marvin has flatly refused to comment.

This is indeed baffling. Merry has served under the President for fourteen years here, and some years at the University of Arizona. Yet President Marvin, who appointed him Business Manager three years ago, has declined to make any statement in regard to Mr. Merry's service.

Just about the only other bit of information The Hatchet could pick up, outside of the fact that Mr. Merry will join the armed forces of the United States, is the fact that he won't be back. All connections between himself and the University have been severed. This is certainly not in line with the policy accepted by universities all over the nation.

Yes indeed, we're baffled.

Lack of Drive in Defense

• EVERY CAMPUS organization pays lip service to National Defense. Every student theoretically is willing to do his part. But when a concrete opportunity to serve the nation appears on the horizon it is universally ignored.

The Victory Book Drive was a worthy cause to which all should have contributed. Yet the University's showing was pitiful when we consider our college has ten thousand students enrolled. Every book contributed is now on its way to some Army camp. It's good the Army did not depend exclusively on the students of this University to supply it with reading material. If it had it would be in dire straits.

Those who collected books for the sororities can testify to the attitude of most students. It was not an admirable one. It suggested the devil-take-the-hindmost point of view discovered in French universities before the invasion.

But the pay-off was the Victory Book Dance. In short, it was a flop. "A flop" that is symbolic of the way the National Defense program has been received at the University. Stark tragedy. No less.

The Student Club donated its premises and personnel so the Victory Book Dance would be a success. Posters were displayed on every bulletin board. Leaders of all activities were notified. Admission could be had for only one book. The response was terrifying. Less than 30 books were collected.

About four girls and a dozen boys appeared. No event was ever or could ever be a more dismal flop.

Those few students who did show up, for the most part, were from the Varsity House. To the University athletes there is nothing but praise. As for the other campus groups, little can be said. They just didn't deliver the goods. And the boys in khaki will suffer as a consequence.

Too many people say they are in favor of National Defense. To say that means nothing. Deeds, not words, count in times like these. Hell is paved with good intentions.

These days require men, and unless we measure up we are in danger of losing for all time the privilege of living in a free land. Each individual and each organization must now justify its existence.

While in time of war there is more need than ever for means of relaxation and escape an organization which can furnish no more than this is not developed to its highest potentiality. There is no reason why every group cannot do its part.

What a paradox! We can loathe the British for blundering, condemn Congress and War Production Boards, but feel no pangs of conscience about what we and our associates are not doing to help win the war.

The Book Drive may seem of little consequence. That is highly debatable. No one thinks hunger and thirst of little consequence yet many of these same persons fail to recognize there is an intellectual as well as a physiological hunger. It is as important the one be met as the other. We don't think the book drive was inconsequential. But of even more consequence was the spirit with which it was greeted at the University. Unless this spirit changes, the future of activities on the campus and democracy in America is not bright.

Campus Caravan

• IN THE spring an editor's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of—brightly colored rags, so it seems. Papers from our neighboring campi blossom out in brilliant red and green inks, as they usher in the new season.

Lehigh will go good next semester. For the first time, women will be admitted to regularly scheduled classes. Lucky boys!

A new war industry course, training the men for metallurgical work in the war industries, is being offered in the Pitt Laboratories.

The slogan, "Keep 'em Flying," has done strange things to American business. The bakery business has adopted the motto, "Keep 'em flying." The undertakers adopted this epitaph, "Keep 'em dying." The Kleenex Company uses "Keep 'em crying"; the merchants blare, "Keep 'em buying" and the Marriage Bureau peps up the lassies with "Keep on trying"—L. A. Collegian.

Just call me sugar, 'cause I'm hard to get.—Annapolis Log.

Rensselaer Polytech chemists have been affected by war priorities. The government has cracked down on the sale of chemicals and chemical supplies, making it quite difficult to obtain most of the products used in the laboratories.

It is a fairly well established axiom that the modern college girl is well poised at all times and can take any happening pretty calmly. For further proof hear the tale gleaned from the Northeastern News. A young college couple, driving home after a Boston dance, rounded a bend at 40, skidded on a patch of oil, and the car slid off the highway into the trees by the roadside, with the student frantically spinning the wheel this way and that, dodging the trees until he could apply brakes. He brought the car to a screaming stop, almost throwing the girl and himself through the windshield. With a sigh of relief at the miraculous escape, he turned to the lass and put his arm around her waist to comfort her.

"This is all very nice," she breathed, "but wouldn't it have been easier just to say you had run out of gas?"

Stinkie, University of California's skunk mascot, so christened after having lived up to his fragrant potentialities, is on the loose! The animal was to have been rendered harmless by a minor amputation, and bacteriology majors were selected as qualified surgeons. The office of a friendly professor was to be Stinkie's refuge until he was ready for the operation. But Stinkie lost no time in gnawing through the cardboard cage, providing serious mental hazard to the janitors. His temporary host, the professor, has entered the plea that he be kept strictly anonymous.

An Electrical Engineer's romance:

"Your eyes sparkle like a broken commutator, your hair shines like a new copper wire. Your lips are as red as a heated resistance coil. When I am near you my efficiency decreases, and my heart revs up 150%. When I touch your hand, it sets me tingling like a 150-volt circuit, and when I kiss you, my sweet, I feel like I've blown a fuse."—The Tower.

Year-Old Art Merger Brings Varied Comment From Students

By EILEEN SHANAHAN

• AFTER a semester and a half of collaboration of the University Art Department and the Corcoran School of Art whereby University students take practical art work at the latter institution, opinion is divided as to the merit of the merger.

Under the new system which went into effect the beginning of this school year, University students wishing to major in art, study under teachers at Corcoran and continue with regular work outside of the major at the University.

Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the University under whose direction the merger was arranged, stated this week that the merger had worked out "far better than I had any reason to anticipate."

"There is a certain amount of confusion in bringing about any such arrangement," he continued, "and there has been less confusion in this case than in any merger I have ever dealt with."

Students Express Objections

Students interviewed on the success of the merger expressed various objections to the plan. Unanimous expression of regret was voiced that the University art department had lost its identity, and even the most ardent supporters of the new organization of the art curriculum seem to feel that the University art school could have been maintained. The feeling that the University art department was an up and coming one is general.

Under the present set-up of the merger, University students taking practical work at Corcoran pay the regular University fee of $8 per semester hour. This sum is, however, nearly twice what Corcoran students are paying for the same instruction.

Another protest has been registered over the basic difference in organization of the two schools. Due to the fact that Corcoran is a college, classes are held there every afternoon or evening in any specific subject. This leaves University students no opportunity to attend laboratories, gym classes, etc. The University art department ran on the three-times-a-week basis.

Enrollment Drops Greatly

The distance between the schools is sometimes a factor in creating inconvenience and lessening the feeling of unity, it was reported.

That University students have found it difficult to attend classes at Corcoran is shown by the fact that enrollment in art classes has dropped from the more than 80 of last year to less than 20 students, though enrollment in the lecture courses in art given at the University by Professors Crandall and Kline has not fallen off noticeably.

Though general agreement is found among the University students taking work at Corcoran that that institution has better facilities for training in the classical forms of art, many complaints have been heard over the fact that Corcoran offers no courses in commercial art, fashion design, or interior decoration. This lack means that students are given no background for getting jobs in commercial art after graduation.

Corcoran Friendly

Corcoran instructors and administrators have been friendly and cooperative, students agreed, but

• ONLY SEVEN DAYS left to the fifteenth annual Engineers' Banquet on April 25. Save that date for the biggest affair of the year. Due to the fact that the New Auditorium will not be ready as planned, the banquet will be held at the Almas Temple, with Roy V. Wright as the guest speaker. Sen. Wright, past president of the A.S.M.E. and state senator from New Jersey, is very highly thought of in his field. He will speak on the "Engineer in Public Service."

There are other big plans afoot, but nothing definite is known as yet. We will let you in on it as soon as something is known for sure. The tickets will be on sale today and you can get one from any member of the Council, provided you hand him $1.75, or promise to pay at the banquet.

ELECTIONS ARE COMING up in a short time, so we want to take this opportunity to say a few words about them.

The next few years will be some of the most difficult years in the history of our organizations. Men will be leaving for military service, or they will be working harder each day and have less time to put into the organizations; therefore at this time it is particularly important that we elect men who will be best fitted for the jobs. This calls for not snap judgments, but for mature consideration of the men available and eligible to fill the posts. We hope to see a big turnout on the sixth of May, when the societies elect their officers.

TOMORROW, there will be a short meeting of Sigma Tau, and an Engineers' Council Meeting. Next Wednesday Theta Tau is having initiation, at which time Boyd Horn and Al Sydlar will be initiated.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17 THRU 19

You want to serve your country? Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist now and continue in college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within two years to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

80,000 men per year will be accepted under this new plan. If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But until you have finished two calendar years, you will remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a written examination prepared by the Navy. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses — each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of your college work, after which you will be ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. Approximately 20,000 men a year will be accepted for Naval Aviation.

2. Or you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In this case you will be allowed to continue your college work until you have received your degree.

DON'T WAIT... ACT TODAY

2. Or go to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.
3. Or mail coupon below for FREE BOOK giving full details.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Deck or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish the second calendar year of college, after which you will be ordered to active duty at a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman.

Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty at once as Apprentice Seamen.

Your pay starts with active duty.

Here's a real opportunity. A chance to enlist in your country's service now without giving up your college training... a chance to prove by that same training that you are qualified to be an officer in the Navy.

Colonials Edge Eagles; Face Mountaineers

American Beaten 10-9 In Opener

Red Kloak Slated To Hurl in Attempt To Avenge '41 Loss

By THERON RICE

• VICTORIOUS in their opening game against American University by the slim margin of 10-9, the University nine will attempt to make it two straight Thursday afternoon when they face the Mountaineers of West Virginia on the Ellipse at 2:30.

Coach Vinnie DeAngelis revealed yesterday that he will once again start big Red Kloak on the mound, in an all-out attempt to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Mountaineers. Bobby Gilham, and Ted Reichwein, with whom DeAngelis is now experimenting as pitchers, will be on hand for relief if necessary.

The Colonials squeaked through with a one run decision against the A. U. Eagles last Wednesday on the A. U. field, in spite of the fact that they kicked away three runs in the first two innings and lost an eight-run lead.

The Buffmen got one in the first and one in the second, to take a 2-1 lead over the Eagles who got one marker in the first. But the Colonials really caught on to slants of Herman Byer, A. U. pitcher, in the fifth, and sent seven runs across the plate. A tremendous home run to center field by Len Sokol featured the rally. The winning run came on an unearned marker by Geoffrey Chew in the ninth.

In spite of the close margin of victory, Coach DeAngelis was well pleased with his team's performance, pointing out the good fielding and hard hitting. Vinnie plans to pitch Gilham, who did a beautiful job of relief pitching against A. U. against Maryland next week and come back with Kloak against Virginia.

Badminton Finalists Feature Intramural Night Tomorrow

• AL HARINGER'S FALL AND SPRING Intramural program comes to a climax tomorrow with an Intramural Night that has as its features the final rounds of the men's singles and mixed doubles badminton competition. Birds start flying in the Tin Tabernacle at 8:00 p.m.

In the opening match of the evening, the mixed badminton, H. K. Griffith and Lillie Naiman oppose Howard Vorder Bruegge and Faye Griffith. Singles play pits the winner of the semi-final match between Hal Smith and Joe Mason against H. K. Griffith.

The basketball free throw finals will find Joe Hall, Michel Wagman, Sam Leeper and Jim Graham toeing the little black line. Thus far Hall is leading with 19 successful tosses out of 25, while Wagman and Leeper have 16 and Graham one less.

In the 140 pound class, Moe Schulman is slated to box Bill Howard, and Simon Weinger, at 150 pounds, will fight an as yet unnamed opponent. Ward McCabe has planned a fencing exhibition.

Volley Ball competition, only recently initiated, gets well underway tonight when the Hankenites play the Coal Miners at 5 p.m. In the gym. Other games this week include the Ream-Hankenite clash Wednesday, and the Coal Miner-Kappa Alpha fracas of the same date. On Thursday the Reams play the Coal Miners, and on Friday the MacArthurs battle the Hankenites and the Reams the K.A's.

Entries and qualifying scores for the intramural bowling tournament must be in by tomorrow. Other vital information to be submitted at that time includes the most convenient time to play for the entrant, and scores for three consecutive games.

Eighteen holes of medal play will comprise the golf tournament soon to be held. Entries may be turned in at any time.

Western Md. Defeats Buff Golf Team

• THE UNIVERSITY men's golf team went down to defeat in their first match of the current season Saturday when they traveled to Westminster, Md., to play Western Maryland. The Green Terror's linksmen won by a 5-1 score. Scotty Gudmonson being the only Colonial to register a victory. Gudmonson won one up.

In spite of a low game of 77, George Vass, the team's usually brilliant mainstay, lost his match 2 up and one to go. Charlie Stockell, playing his first Varsity match, lost only one up in a very close match, and Milton Rein lost 5 up and four to play.

The Colonials next match is with the powerful Georgetown Hoyas, who are always one of the leading teams in the East. They play this Saturday at Kenwood.

In spite of the fact that the season has already started, any persons who would still like to come out for the team are welcome. The squad is very small, and even if any newcomers didn't get to play in actual matches, they could gain valuable experience against District High School teams and in practice.

Women's Golf

• THE WOMEN'S Athletic Department announced yesterday that a women's golf tournament, open to all University women students, will be held tomorrow at 12 Noon on the East Potomac Park course.

Miss Jennie Turnbull will be on hand to supervise the event and register contestants' scores. Play will be of the 36 hole medal type.

Lentz Gets Bond

• DOC LENTZ, trainer at the University, is the proud possor of a $25 war bond today. Doc has been teaching a first aid class for the air raid wardens in this section. At the conclusion of the course last week his pupils presented him the bond as a token of their appreciation.

Riflers Enter Intercollegiate Team Matches

• THE WOMEN'S VARSITY rifle season closed last week when Judy Osmer, manager, gave the N. R. A. the targets to be used for the Intercollegiate Team Championship Match. Gauging of targets was not allowed but estimates were made as to the high five to be used. Out of a possible 500, Shirley Schafer Captain, shot a 492 or 493, Barbara Simons 493 or 494, Nancy O'Rourke 491, Marions Cholsner 487 or 488 and Judy Osmer, 486 or 487.

The same week the team shot their Beaver College match and lost by two points, 495 to 493.

The team shot eight matches this year. Their first, with Cornell, was won by default; the second, with Purdue, was won, 485 to 488. Creighton tied, so the sixth target was used and Creighton gained one point, 486 to 485. G. W. won over Illinois, 485 to 470, and over California at Berkeley, 477 to 373. Drexel, however, beat G. W. by sending them the highest score that could be shot: a 500 to G. W.'s 494, and as a finale, Beaver won, 495 to 493.

Fencers Fence For Defense In Finale

• FENCERS fenced for defense last week in the final meeting of the season of the Men and Women's Fencing Club. With two dollars in defense, stamps and a medal for each winner, the final inter-member Round Robin was held among the men and women fencers, ending with Bud Hecht winner of the men's group and Beal Lowrey of the women.

Additional honor was heaped upon these two when elections were held. Bud was elected president and Beal, vice president. The other officers were Joe Stepanovich, secretary, and Freda Goldman, treasurer. The club voted for a summer session and Hecht appointed Joe Stepanovich as acting president for the summer. Informal meetings will be held during the rest of the semester, emphasis being placed on social function. A picnic and a beach party are already being planned.

WAA Meets; Sells Stamps For Defense

• A MEETING of the Women's Athletic Association will be held next Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. in Columbian House, first floor. At that time, all members of the Association will convene to discuss plans for the Spring Banquet to be held May 4. The banquet is an annual affair, highlighted by the presentation of awards in the various competitions. These may be in the form of Defense stamps this year instead of the usual loving cups.

The group is also launching a drive for the sale of Defense stamps at the request of Dean William Crane Johnstone, who was recently named to head the University's war effort. Members will sell the stamps at a booth in the Student Club beginning next Monday.

The Association has already attempted to organize the women of the University in a physical fitness campaign which began last month, and has offered its help in all defense efforts of the University.

A pamphlet describing the ways in which University women might aid the defense effort appeared last month and was distributed to all women on the campus.

KA, Pi KA, Kappa Sigs Capture Softball Openers

• SIX GREEK softball teams cast off their weekend drowsiness Sunday morning to crawl out of bed and inaugurate the Interfraternity softball season. One game was forfeited while two other games were postponed.

The defending champion Sig Eps got off to an easy start in their League when they were granted a forfeit by Delta Tau Delta.

But in the slugfest of the day, Pi Kappa Alpha nosed out Sigma Alpha Epsilon 24-16 behind the pitching of John Carter and the pitching of Jimmy Graham. Carter hit two home runs, one with the bases loaded and the other with two on, and Graham pitched good ball in the latter innings after getting off to a terrible start. The SAE's got 10 runs in their first inning.

In the other league, Kappa Alpha crushed the Tekes 19-5 behind the steady hurling of their star pitcher, Howard Vorderbruegge. Vorderbruegge was very stingy with his hits, and ably assisted by Hank Strickler's three doubles and a single had little trouble in winning.

In the only other game played, the Kappa Sigs swarmed all over the Phi Sigs, winning as they pleased to the tune of 22-5. Carl Bauersfeld and Jeff Ambercombe hurled for the Phi Sigs.

The Theta Delta Chi-Sigma Nu and the Sigma Chi-Acacia games were both postponed.

Summer Baseball Gets Green Light From 5 Local Schools

• PLANS FOR a summer baseball season that will run through July and August have met enthusiastic response from five colleges in the Washington area, according to Max Farrington, athletic director. The athletic departments of Maryland, Georgetown, American U., Catholic U., and George Washington have thus joined themselves together into an organization closely approximating the Potomac Conference, advocated for many years by former Athletic Director Jim Pixlee.

A meeting of representatives of these schools, in addition to voting to support the conference, readily accepted the proposal that the Naval Academy be invited to join, and while formal acceptance has not been received from the Navy, the indications are that it will be soon. Such a program would be entirely in line with the increased athletic program recently put into effect at the Academy.

Present plans call for a double round robin with each team playing ten games, or, if the Navy joins, twelve. Two games would be played each week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Schedules have not yet been formulated, but Farrington has said that the Conference schools have agreed to play all Navy games at Annapolis, so as not to unduly tax the traveling allowances for teams at the Academy, which have been rationed considerably for the duration.

In line with a suggestion from the Alpha Delta Circle of ODK, Farrington proposed that summer athletic relations, made possible by the 12-week session now in force, be formed with these schools in swimming, tennis and golf, and this offer has also been favorably considered by some of them.

RODEO OR RANGE—TOP-HANDS AGREE: "THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A CAMEL"

"AFTER A REAL TOUGH RIDE, believe me, nothing hits the spot like a Camel," says Steer-Riding Champion Gene Rambo (below). "That full, rich flavor is great—and no matter how much I smoke, Camels always taste swell. What's more, the extra smoking in Camels is mighty welcome economy."

GRAND CHAMPION ALL-ROUND COWBOY FRITZ TRUAM also has a Saddle Bronc title to his credit. Wherever the riding is the roughest... you'll find Fritz in action—and, if not riding, he'll probably be enjoying a Camel (above). "Camels are extra mild. I've smoked 'em for 10 years," says Fritz.

"LESS NICOTINE in the smoke makes good horse sense to me," explains Bareback Bronc ace Hank Mills (left). "Camels have the mildness that counts. They've got the flavor, too." Everywhere you go, it's the same—for extra mildness, coolness, and flavor, there's nothing like a Camel—America's favorite.

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% LESS NICOTINE than the average of the 4 other largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

Dr. Sickler Resigns To Accept Medical Director's Post

• ANNOUNCEMENT that Dr. Margaret Sickler, Associate University Physician, has resigned her post at the University to take a defense job was disclosed last week.

Dr. Sickler left the University March 25th to take a position as Medical Director for the Fourth Civil Service Region. In this position, Dr. Sickler will have the task of setting up the standard of physical requirements on certain civilian defense jobs.

The area over which she will take charge includes Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina, and her duties will require that about 90 per cent of her time be spent traveling throughout this region.
